Paul Holley OAM is a choral conductor, educator, and motivator. His personal warmth and passion for choral music have inspired many singers to develop their skills as choral musicians. With over twenty-five years of teaching experience in schools and many years of working with adult community choirs, Paul knows how to connect with singers of all ages and enjoys collaborating with them in the music-making process.

Presently, Paul is the Associate Director of Voices of Birralee and conducts two ensembles within this organisation, the Birralee Blokes and Resonance of Birralee. These ensembles have toured both nationally and internationally, won several competitions, made numerous recordings, and supported community events. He is also the co-conductor of the national youth choir Gondwana Chorale. In addition to these roles, Paul is a workshop presenter, choral clinician, guest conductor, adjudicator and mentor to younger conductors. He was awarded a Medal of the Order of Australia in January 2016 for his services to choral music.
